

TWIN CITIES WEEKLY INTELLIGENCE & THREAT BRIEFING

Protect your business through actionable intelligence

Protests. Terrorism threats. Road construction. Riots. Super Bowl 52. New legislation. Crime in your neighborhood. An ever-uncertain environment surrounds your business.

As a leader in your organization, or as a small business owner, you're constantly confronted with challenges from many different directions.

It's nearly impossible to keep track of the evolving environment around your business.

But what if a weekly product offering a summary of local threats, intelligence, and news arrived in your e-mail inbox every Monday morning at 10:00am?

Think of the time you could regain to stay focused on productive work that grows and sustains your organization!

PRODUCED BY THE EXPERTS AT BRYGHTPATH

The Twin Cities Weekly Intelligence & Threat Briefing is produced by our expert team with decades of experience in intelligence, crisis communications, emergency management, and corporate security. They work within the Bryghtpath Global Operations Center (BGOC), our 24x7x365 state of the art center that monitors events, news, and intelligence around the world.

OUR WEEKLY INTELLIGENCE & THREAT BRIEFING

On a weekly basis, our team of experts filters through hundreds of local, national, and global news sources – along with proprietary, government, and open-source intelligence resources – to assemble a 10-12 page weekly briefing that arrives via e-mail as an Adobe PDF attachment.

In the Weekly Briefing you'll find information about urgent, emerging threats locally, large local protests, recent significant criminal or threat incidents, planned road construction & traffic issues, upcoming major events, and national/global risks or threats that have a local connection.

You'll also find a summary of important news, including political developments locally and nationally, business/economic news, and upcoming weather.

And, with major events like Super Bowl 52, the X-Games, and the 2019 NCAA Men's Final Four coming to Minneapolis, we've included key news and developments around those events in the Weekly Briefing.

The Twin Cities Weekly Intelligence & Threat Briefing is exactly the product you need to stay ahead of uncertainty – protecting your employees, assets, and business.
